

What Is Stephen Harper Reading? Bookcrossing Edition

Inspired by novelist Yann Martel's project of sending Prime Minister Stephen Harper a book every other week to remind him "of the life-shaping marvel contained within books," some BookCrossers have decided to each send a book of their own to Mr. Harper to highlight the value of the arts, science, the environment, or human rights to our society.

If you have found this book, please go to bookcrossing.com where you can use the BookCrossing ID number below to share how it came into your hands and where it is going next.
